TROUBLE ABOUT A FOOT RACE. Runner Burge Brings Suit Against Stakeholder Jenking.

There was a large gathering of men who take a warm interest in foot racing in court room No. 2 yesterday where the case of James Burge against William J. Jenkine was being tried before, arbitrators J. W. Carpenter, C. W. Dawson and George Reck Attorney J. Alton Davis appeared for Mr. Burge and Attorney A J. Colborn, jr., for the defendant.

The suit is the outgrowth of a foot race that was run at the Driving Park on Sept. 12 inst. It was for $500 a side and William T. Jenkins was the stakeholder. It is maintained by Burge that the race was unfair. His opponent was David Jones.

Burge says that after the signal was given to start they were called back to the line by one of the starters. He returned but Jones finished the race and Jenkins turned over the stake money to him. This Burge claims was itlegal as there had been no race and he sued Jenkins to recover the $500 he deposited with him.

It is claimed by the defense that the race was started fair and proper that it was lawfully won by David Jones, who was entitled to the stake money which he received.

HIS SON GOES THERE TO FIND HIM

Much Anxiety Felt Concerning Him by His Friends Here and in New York. Entertainment Given in St. John's Hall-Picnic of Comet Social Club. Death of Mrs. Catherine Wichel. Other News Notes and Personals.

Among the Scrantonians who left this city last week to attend the mam-moth saengerfest in New York was John Rosen, proprietor of the Eleventh Ward botel, on Cedar avenue. It is reported that Mr. Rosen left without apprising his family of his intentions, but they did not feel that there was any cause for worriment over that fact. They felt that he was simply tak-ing a vacation that his hard work had merited and they hoped that he might enjoy himself. From present indications the trip will prove far from being the pleasure that was contemplated. Mr. Rosen's friends in New York have lost track of him and yesterday George Rosen, who is associated with his father in the hotel, received a telegram asking if his father had returned. They asked a re-ply and in case he had not arrived ome George was asked to go to New York, which he did on the afternoon train yesterday. The young man can not imagine what has become of his father, but is fearful of the worst. When Mr. Rosen left the house of relatives with whom he was stopping Sunday morning he had slippers on,

MR. LANGE WILL RETURN.

To Again Take Charge of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

In 1889 the Lutheran church of St. Paul was erected at Prospect avenue and Birch street and the charge was committed to Rev. August Lange, a clergyman young in years, but possessing much zeal and executive ability. He found a congregation of fourteen families, but in less than two years the number had been increased to 114 Everything was in good working order. Church societies were formed, the people were interested in church work and the services were largely attended.

But the salary was small, and when the paster received a call to the princi-palship of a Lutheran riigh school in Washington county, Missouri, he ac-cepted it and with his wife, who is a daughter of School Controller Notz, he moved westward.

His successor, Rev. Carl Kiesling, did not have the same good results to show as his predecessor, and the con-gregation dwindled. A meeting of the church committee was held some time since, and after staring the crisis in the face, they decided that an effort be made to have Mr. Lunge return. He was communicated with and when he learned how things stood, concluded that his heart lay with his first charge, and decided to return and will assure charge next Sunday.
